

Docora

Knowledge Unlocked.

You've invested in documentation. Now people can actually get answers from it.

WHY DOCORA

⚠ The Problem

- ✗ Customers and staff can't get answers when experts are unavailable
- ✗ Critical knowledge is spread across countless documents, and getting answers means waiting for the experts who know where to look
- ✗ Traditional search returns too many results, requires exact keywords
- ✗ Skilled staff are pulled away from high-value work to answer routine questions

✔ The Docora Solution

- ✓ Ask questions in plain English, get answers — not search results
- ✓ AI responds based only on your approved documents — not public internet content
- ✓ Answers grounded in your documents, with optional source citations
- ✓ 24/7 access to organizational knowledge without interrupting colleagues

Docora acts as a tireless expert for your organization — always available, always accurate, and constrained to your approved knowledge.

THE COMPARISON

Why Traditional Search (and Generic AI) Falls Short

Traditional search gives you documents — not answers

People still have to open files, scan pages, and interpret policies on their own.

Generic AI can sound confident — but isn't constrained to your rules

Without grounding, answers can drift from your policies, processes, or latest guidance.

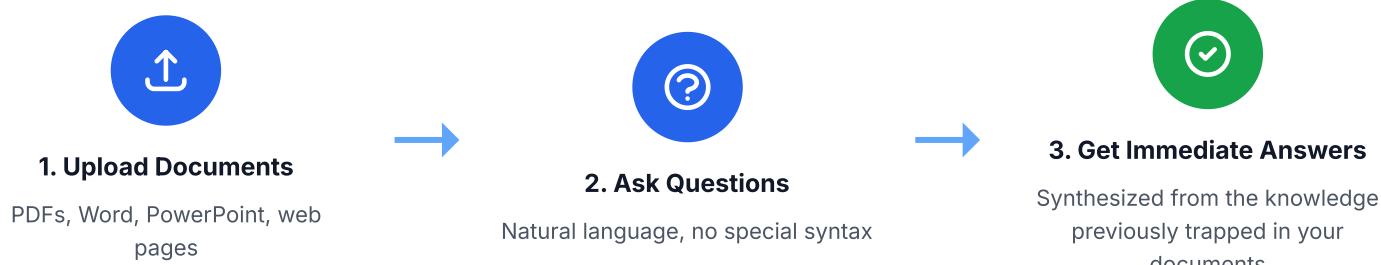

Docora delivers answers grounded in your approved knowledge

Responses are generated directly from your documents, with optional citations so people can verify the source.

SIMPLE & POWERFUL

How Docora Works

★ The Magic: Semantic Understanding

Docora understands meaning, not just keywords. Ask about "vacation policy" and it finds documents mentioning "PTO", "time off", "leave requests", and "annual leave" - all without needing exact matches.
